DANE COUNTY TOWNS BROADBAND PLANNING

Please join Dane County's new Broadband Coordinator, Jaron McCallum, for an opportunity to learn and engage on broadband planning efforts in Dane County!

December 6, 6:00pm - 8:00pm or December 12, 6:00pm - 8:00pm

Who:

Local elected officials, community leaders, broadband champions, engaged citizens, and any other community members working on expanding access to broadband in their community.

What:

The meetings will run for about two hours and cover a variety of broadband related topics including: how to identify areas of need in your community, work with internet service providers, apply for broadband expansion grants, and make use of existing broadband planning resources and maps. Come learn more about your community's role in broadband expansion. Additionally, there will be plenty of time for the audience to ask questions and engage in open discussion.

Why:

Access to high-speed internet is no longer a luxury; it a necessity for community prosperity. From access to telework and telehealth opportunities, online schooling and education, local economic development, to resident's overall quality of life, broadband access is a critical component for Township success. More than $1 Billion dollars of broadband infrastructure funding is coming to Wisconsin and now is the time to prepare to capitalize!
